The Republicans of the Senate Don't Know What to Do.

MR. BLAINE AS THE PARTY BOSS fells Them What They Must Do-Some Ob-ject and Think They Know Better -A Big Mix.

Washington, August 17.—[Special.]—It is stident the republicans are perplexed on the safif. There are some inclined at this late moment to back out from the undertaking of framing a tariff bill, and return to the proposi-tion as set down by Mr. Bayne, in the house debate, to go to the country merely as opposed to the Mills bill, and if sustained in this posiion to then bring in a bill next session.

This plan was pressed upon the party by a number of senators when the question first arese, but the opinion that the sentiment of the country demanded some action prevailed and the labor of preparing a bill was begun.

Several times the senators engaged in this work have thought that they had about struck mon a plan of reduction of the taxes upon which the party could agree. On each occasien, however, a hitch has occurred. Features of the plan were disapproved by different

MR. BLAINE'S ADVICE. Tt seems now that the rumor published in THE CONSTITUTION yesterday that Mr. Blaine had advised against the reporting of a tariff bill, although denied by Senator Allison, is true. It is said he holds that it would be an easy matter to make the contest before the result in conception to the Mills bill, but they le in opposition to the Mills bill, but that they brought in a bill of their own it would complicate the situation, putting them on the defensive as to their own measure.

However, senators who are responsible for the plan of action adopted in the first place ject to being called to a halt by Mr. Blaine. The members of the finance committee say that they are going right on with their work and will report a bill in time. It is an open secret, however, that if a resolution for adjournment could be got over from the house before the bill is reported an earnest effort would be made to rush it through the senate.

BLAINE AND CARLISLE. The Star says today that a proposition is under consideration by the democratic campaign masters to arrange for a joint discussion of the tariff question by Speaker Carlisle and Mr. Blaine. It is proposed to challenge Mr. Blaine to meet Mr. Carlisle and dispute the question in alternate speeches in twelve principal cities of the United States, six to be named by Mr. Blaine and six by the speaker. The opinion of a number of prominent demoratic congressmen as to the advisability of nch a course has been asked, and there is a very general concurrence of approval.

SENATOR MORGAN'S MOUTH. The fisheries treaty is up again in the senate this afternoon, and, as usual, Senator Morgan, of Alabama, occupied the floor. He spoke bout three hours and then asked that the senate reconsider their action to adjourn over unil Monday, and let him conclude his remarks orrow. Previous to this it had been de cided that Mr. Evarts should speak on Mon day, and at 6 o'clock on that day the debate should be declared closed. Mr. Morgan said he did not desire the senators to come to hear him, but be was anxious to conclude his remarks in order that they might be printed.

Objection was made. The ayes and nays against allowing him to finish, and the fact was disclosed that no quorum was present. Mr. Morgan was angered by the votes against him, and said he would conclude tonight, even if it took him until midnight.

He was about to proceed when President Ingalls stated that the aye and no vote had disclosed that a quorum was not present, and for that reason there should be either adjournment or call of the senate. It was decided to urn, but before doing so Mr. Morgan said ors in refusing to allow him to conclude, that the official reporter refrain from printing his remarks in the Record. He was very angry and was exceedingly harsh in his criti-

Mr. Morgan has only spoken something ver twenty hours on this question already, and it was but natural that his colleagues should have grown weary.

THE HOUSE FILIBUSTERING. The house again devoted all of today to flibustering against setting a day for the consideration of pension bills.

The republicans, led by Mr. Lyman, ra, seem determined to have a day fixed, while on the other hand, the democrats seem equally determined to prevent this, and are resorting to filibustering tactics. Mr. Lyman says he will make the point of no quorum inst every partisan measure that comes up ntil the democrats give consideration to gen eral pension legislation.

THE M'KINLEY PARTY. There is just a quorum of members in the city, but while Mr. Lyman is endeavoring to get up the pension bills they manage to absent hemselves from the house.

Major McKinley has received a letter from Colonel Buck, stating that he, with a delega-tion from Atlanta, would arrive here on Saturday night to escort him to the Chautauqua spondents of the Cincinnati Commercial Gazette, Cleveland Leader and New York Tribune will accompany Mr. McKinley. Messrs. John Phinizy, D. D. Crocker and Charles Stubbs, of Augusta, are here.

MR. MORGAN ON DECK.

His Gives Two Hours of His Valuable Time to the Fisheries Treaty. WASHINGTON, August 17 .- The senate took up the fishery treaty in open executive session the pending question being on the motion sub mitted yesterday by Mr. Gibson.

Mr. Frye asked unanimous consent for an order of the senate that at one o'clock each day debate on the treaty shall proceed and shall close on Monday next at six o'clock, the friends of the treaty having the last two hours; and that on Threstor, part at 12 clock, the final that on Tuesday next at 12 o'clock the final vote shall be taken on all amendments, motions and resolution of ratification.

There was no objection, so the order was made.

On motion of Mr. Cockrell it was ordered that when the senate adjourns today it be to meet on Monday next at 11 a. m.
Mr. Morgan then proceeded to address the senate in favor of the ratification of the treaty. After he had spoken for two hours or more Mr. Morgan suggested that the order agreed on today should be so far modified as that discussion on the treaty shall begin on Monday at the conclusion of the reading of the journal.

Mr. Call desired to reserve time on Monday for action on his joint resolution in relation to yellow fever. He appealed to the senate for this as a matter of humanity and public necessity. He was informed, however, that there would be a discussion on the joint resolution and that it would consume considerable time. would be a discussion on the joint resolution and that it would consume considerable time. Mr. Frye moved to reconsider the vote for an adjournment over till Monday, so that Mr. Morgan might finish his speech tomorrow. There was no quorum voting on this motion, and so the roll of senators was called, when only thirty senators responded. The roll was again called and still there was no quorum, and the sergeant-at-arms was directed to request the attendance of absent senators.

Pending the execution of this order, the senate at 5:30 adjourned till Monday at 11 a. m.

THEY ARE DRAWING PAY,

And Still Members of the House Do Nothing But Answer Roll-Calls.

Washington, August 17.—The house this marning resumed consideration of the resolution assigning certain days for general pension legislation, the pending question being on the demand for the previous question. The vote resulted yeas 115, nays 5. No quorum voted, and a call of the house was ordered.

One hundred and seventy-four members having responded to their names, further proceedings under the call were dispensed with, and Mr. Dockery, of Missouri, asked unanimous consent that the hour, of which there remained eight minutes, might be considered as having expired; but to this there was objection. For the purpose of consuming eight minutes, Mr. Crisp, of Georgia, moved that the house adjourn, and demanded tellers. The motion was defeated, but the object was accomplished. Mr. Payson, of Illinois, asked unanimor

Finally, after two or three more roll calls, the house adjourned. Eleven Million Envelopes of Tariff Stuff.

Washington, August 17.—Representative O'Donnell, of Michigan, member of the house committee on accounts, has been busy auditing vouchers for envelopes used in distributing speeches of members of the house during the present session. Most of the speeches have been on the subject of the tariff, and $21,000 has been on the subject of the tariff, and $21,000 has been expended in furnishing 11,000,000 envelopes, necessary to distribute campaign literature throughout the country. Previous to the present session, the largest number of envelopes used for this purpose was during the campaign of 1876, when 700,000 envelopes was required.

Some Cooling News.

St. Paul, Minn., August 17.—Observer Lyons reports the occurrence of "killing frost" for the first time this season at 'St. Vincent, Minn., where the temperature fell to thirty degrees before sunrise this morning. The frost extended southward to Morehead, and northward to Bismarck, but was light at these points. Though tending to retard the maturing of crops there, it was not fatal. At Winnepeg reports have been received from all over the wheat belt. All agree in saying that the immense wheat crop is uninjured by last night's cold snap. night's cold snap.

Heat in the North.

Birdsbord, Pa., August 17.—Nearly all the departments of the extensive works of the E. & G. Brooks Iron company, in this borough, have suspended operations in consequence of the heat. The men have been unable to stand the temperature of several days past. Many of them were exhausted and are suffering at their homes from heat prostration. Denouncing the Trust.

What was jetsoned was of wood and provisions. There was not much wind, but there was a heavy swell. Between nine and ten o'clock we reached the forward bulkhead, then stopped throwing the cargo overboard, and got to work shoring up compartments. "We were taking water badly in the forehold but kept the pumps going all the time, so that the water had not time to gain on us. At 11 o'clock the steamship Wieland, for New York, hove in sight and we transferred all the rescued passingers, as well as our own 45 passengers, to her. The Wieland proceeded about 3 o'clock in the afternoon, leaving us also steering for New York. We continued the work of shoring up the compartments, but after awhile, on account of the wind and sea increasing, we found it impossible to keep on for New York, and decided to head for Halifax. At this time it still looked very much as if we might shik, and some of the crew had refused to work, wanting to be transferred to the Wieland before she left. We went as slow as two knots an hour, and some times found that too much. We just had to crawl, that was all. On Wednesday afternoon a fishing vessel hove in sight and we bore down for her She proved to be the shooner Capis, of La Havre. Captain Cleversey, and we engaged her to stand by and accompany the steamer to Halifax, so as to be able to help us in case she should go down. Last night the sea was so heavy I had to turn the steamer around, running stern foremost and steering by the schooner, which was connected by a hawser with the steamer's bow. We run against the wind this way all night. We did not know on the Thingvalla what steamer'was struck till the second officer of the Geyser jumped on our deek. When I reached the deek, immediately after the shock, the lights on both steamers were burning all right; of that I am certain. The Geyser had been seen by our first officer several minutes before the collision. She was nearly straight ahead of us, but a little bit on the port bow. She started one-sided to get out of the way and we ported. She should have ported likewise. Our whistle was not blowing at the time, as there was no need for it."

HE LOST HIS WIFE.

CHICAGO, August 17.- Marlin Sachuas, a Scandinavian, whose wife was lost on the Geyser, was found by a reporter this morning at his home. On announcement of the sad nows the bereaved man burst into tears, and anxiously inquired for particulars.

"We were married five years ago," he said, brushing aside tears, "at Christiana, Norway, her home. Her father is a Lutheran minister of that city. Eight days after the wedding we started for Chicago. She was going to visither home for the first time since then. She had a premonition that she would not reach: her home for the first time since them. She had a premonition that she would not reach home, and talked of waiting until the next steamer. I insisted she should go on this to avoid fall storms. I wish I had not. I dreamed last night that the vessel she was on had sank. She was the best wimmer in the Christiana natatorium, but I swimmer in the Christians macatorium, but I can't glean much hope from that, for a woman in ocean waves is but a feather. I still hope she may be saved She wrote me a letter from New York full of happy thoughts. Miss Soulberg, of this city, was on the Geyser with her. She, too, I suppose, is lost."

SIXTEEN WERE KILLED.

The Story of the Race Troubles at Freetown, La.

New Orleans, August 17.—Dispatches from New Iberia says: F. P. Smith was buried today with military and civic honors.

The trouble of yesterday grew out of a spirit of revenge on the part of the negroes. The better element of the neighboring parishes had found it impossible to longer tolerate a certain class of idle and immoral characters, and so had ordered them away from various places. Many found refuge at Freetown, a small village, composed entirely of negro families. There they told their stories to their friends, and nursed their anger. On Monday last, reports reached this place that negroes were arming and congregating at Freetown. Their number was estimated at from 500 to 600 mounted men. On mated at from 500 to 600 mounted men. On congregating at Freetown. Their number was estimated at from 500 to 600 mounted men. On Tuesday they were reinforced sufficiently to double their number. Feeling their strength, they assumed a threatening attitude, boldly declaring that the refugees should not leave the parish, and should not be molested. On Wednesday, the number of armed negroes further increased and the people of the surrounding country began to feel some alarm lest these negroes, overestimating their strength, might attempt some act of violence. On Thursday matters had not improved up to noon. By this time residents and property owners of this section began to collect at points a short distance from Freetown, their object being to disperse these who did not belong there to their homes. Citizens rode into Freetown and found, as rumored, a large number of armed negroes quartered there. They asked the meaning of this and the negroes were silent. They demanded surrender of negroes' arms, promising that when they learned to behave themselves, the arms would be returned. The negroes were ordered to at once disperse. Great majority of them accepted terms and surrendered their arms, which were found, without exception, to be loaded with ball or buckshot. Rev. H. Nora, a colored minister, left Freetown in the morning to attend conference of ministers at New Iberia. During his

THE THINGVALLA AT HALIFAX She Reaches There After a Desperate Journey—The Number of Missing—The Investigation at Copenhagen.

HALIFAX, M. S., August 17.—The Danish steamer Thingvalla, which collided with the Geyser, arrived off this harbor at 6 celock this morning. She was at the wharf at 9 o'clock. She presents a strange spectacle, with nearly the whole of her bow torn away, leaving an immense hole exposed to view. A long piece of the bow haugs over the hole, which reaches back into the sides of the ship for fifteen feet. The projecting piece hangs over the water like an outstretched arm, and shows where the powerful iron plates were broken through and snapped off as if they were pipe stems.

Crowds flooked to the wharf to see the steamer, and wonder is expressed that she ever reached the port. No persons were allowed on board.

Captain Lamb has made a statement which, in its essential points, does not differ frem those already published, as coming from people who reached New York on the Wieland. He says:

To the Republican Voters of Virginia: The undersigned having presented the differences in the republican party of Virginia, touching electors in second, third, fifth, sixth, seventh and eighth congressional districts, to the republican national committee, and that committee having adopted the resolutions hereto annexed, we heartily commend its suggestion to all republican voters of the state. In doing this we assume that the republican voters of Virginia will accept he resolution of the national committee as to the mode of proceedings, both in precinct and county meetings, and in district conventions, and that such meetings and tonventions so constituted will give fair, free and full expression of the will of republican voters who assemble in meetings and the delegates in convention. We, therefore, call upon all republicans in Virginia who have heretofore taken part with us in the recent unfortunale division in our party, to attend the precinct and county meetings called for the election of delegates to our district congressional convention, and take part in said proceedings and the recognitions and wherever servers are abled delegated. party to attend the precinct and county meetings called for the election of delegates to our district congressional convention, and take part in raid proceedings, and wherever such are elected delegates to attend said district convention and abide by their action as to the question of their electors. The suggestions of the national committee, if observed, and we doubt not that they will be observed, remove any and all objections on the part of the loyal republicans to attending said meetings and conventions, and are sufficient guarantees for cordial unity among all republicans in our state, in the effort to secure twelve republican electors from Virginia, pledged to Harrison, Morton and protection. In all carnestness, loyalty and sincerity, we make this appeal to members of our party and congratulate them upon the happy ending of all cause of difference among Virginia republicans as to the electoral triket.

The resolution adopted by the national committee was as follows:

Resolved, That it is the sense of this committee that the proposal made by the republican committees of Virginia, presided over by General Mahone, to submit the questions to the electors in the six contested districts of Virginia to district conventions to be convened for nominating congressmen, ought to be accepted by that wing of the republican party presided over by Colonel Huston; but we are further of the opinion that in the interest of narmony, persons calling meetings to elect delegate and district conventions to order, should not designate the temporary chairman, but that selections of said chairmen should be left entirely to the meetings and conventions themselves.

The State of Affairs at Jacksonville Described

IN AN OPEN LETTER FROM CITIZENS Looks Now as if the Epidemic Would b Crushed Out—The News From the Different Parts of the Territory.

JACKSONVILLE, Fla., August 17 .- In orde to correct erroneous reports which have been circulated in regard to the condition of affairs in Jacksonville, a statement signed by the eading citizens of the city has been prepared for publication at the request of the executive committee of the Jacksonville Auxillary Sani-tary association. The signers vouch for its tary association. The signers vouch for its truth and accuracy. It is as follows:

There have been thirty-two cases of yellow fever in and near the city since the first case was introduced three weeks ago. These cases have been either sent to the Sand Hills hospital or confined at their homes. Four of those taken ill have died, eight have recovered and twenty are now under treatment. During the past three days only four new cases have occurred and there have been no deaths since Monday morning. Most vigorous measures are being taken to prevent the spread of the infection and to thoroughly cleanse the city. Confidence is felt that an epidemic will be averted and that the disease will be stamped out within two or hat the disease will be stamped out within two or three weeks. The fact that fever has been slow to spread beyond the original local points and the evi-dent mild character of the disease give strongest reasons for believing that the conditions are most favorable to its propagation; consequently citizens are calm and confident. While many have left the city, in accordance with the wishes of the health authorities, there is no panic or serious apprehenauthornes, there is no pante or scripts apprenen-sion among those who remain. Our people are de-voting themselves nobly to public service or attend-ing to their usual avecations. There are, of course, a good many laborers out of employment; but there has been no trouble or disturbance among them, not even a threat of violence.

Those who are needy are being promptly looked after by the relief committees. There were only eleven deaths last week in this city of more than 30.000 inhabitants, only one of these being from yellow fever, and the general health of the people of Jacksonville during the past thirty days and at the present time will compare favorably with that of any city of like size anywhere. While generous offers of aid have been tendered from different quarters, the authorities and citizens feel that far not even a threat of violence.

BRUNSWICK, August 17.—[Special.]—The yellow fever question remains in statu quo. The city council and board of health today, The city council and board of health today, in joint session, took action on question of the Mallory steamship line and decided they could not enter this port if they persisted in sending the same vessels to Fernandina, although eleven days elapsed before they reach this port again after going thore.

It is probable that a special line will be put on for this port and Port Royal, which has also ruled the Fernandina line out.

The through passenger trains will bereafter be allowed to come no nearer than Jesup and Waycross, and the roads will be compelled to put on "shoo fly" trains.

The work of sanitation is still going on and the victims of quarantine regulations are being augmented by those who come to quarantine line daily without proper certificates. The amusing news reached the city tonight that the sister of City Physician Tucker had been placed in quarantine for not coming prepared with the health certificate. She can be vouched for, however, and will be released before morning, as Dr. Tucker has gone out to her relief.

Surgeon-General Hamilton today received a telegram from Assistant-Surgeon Clarkson, of Fortress Monroe, Va., saying that he has quarantined the British steamship Athens, seven days from Pensacola, to Newport News. He says a case of homaternasis with collapse was found on board too ill for transportation, the vessible being fumigated without removing the cargo of timber.

Dr. Hamilton telegraphed Dr. Clarkson to anchor vessel in north channel near Cape Charles and hold her in quarantine for further observation.

in regard to its treatment. He said, in reply to a question:

"There are cases of all grades, some of which get well with the simplest measures or even without any medicine, while others are combatted with the most vigorous remedies, and again still others of such gravity that no medication avails for their relief. From my present experience and a somewhat extended research that the pathology of yellow fever, I am convinced that it is allied to the class of pernicious bilious fevers, and the same kind of treatment which has been found offective in the so-called congestive fevers is applicable in this disease. While residing in Brazil I became acquainted with the practice of Dr. R. H. Day, of Baton Rouge, La., consisting of the use of a mixture of calonel grs. 5, with quinine grs. 10, every two hours until from four to six doses are taken, and have adopted in a number of cases with most complete success. This combination is given in smaller portions to children and delicate females, with the assurance of arresting the progress of the disease. It is administered during the febrile paroxysm with the result of relieving all the symptoms, and a recent pamphlet of Dr. Day emphasizes the good results from his continued use of this remedy. Other measures may be requisite to meet the varying indications of different cases, but this is the sheet-anchor for staying the progress of a serious case of yellow fever."

"In noting the steps which have been taken in regard to prophylactic inoculation against the yellow fever, what is your conclusions as to its efficacy?"

in regard to prophylactic inoculation against the yellow fever, what is your conclusions as to its efficacy?"

"This subject is too vastand too important to be disposed in a few words, and I can only say that my opportunities for judging of the merits of this measure are of a nature that nothing short of an actual test of its efficacy, under the observation of competent observers, should satisfy the people of this country as to the claims in its favor made by the experiments of Domingos Frim in Rio de Janeiro. The recent flasco of Dr. George Stronberg, who was commissioned by the United States government to investigate this subject, turns out to be a complete farce, and is not calculated to enlighten anyone, touching the practical value of inoculation with the cultivated microbs of yellow fever in preventing or materially modifying the disease in those who are exposed to it. If he had gone to Tampa when the cases occurred there and applied the attenuated virus, so as to have judged of its effects, all could have had an opportunity of knowing what reliance was to be placed upon it use. He now has again a good field for testing unocculation among the people who remain in Jacksonville, and if he will draw on his practical resources by coming down to the plain matter of fact, the truth or the falsity of the claims for inoculation may be settled.

RALEIOH, N. C., August 17.—[Special.]—Four weeks ago the family of T. Smith Bell, Iredell county, consisting of five persons were taken very sick just after dinner with symptoms of poisoning. The sickness passed off without serious consequence.

Last Friday all ate breakfast together. immediately after which two boys started to work. They were again taken sick as they had been taken three weeks before. There is every reason to suspect that poison was given the family on both occasions referred to. With the family lived a colored boy fifteen years old. This boy was not taken sick either time.

Coroner Anderson has just held an inquest. The verdict of the jury was that death had occurred under suspicious circumstances. Bell's stomach has been sent to State Chemist Battle, at Raleigh, for analysis. Bell was seventy years old. —Neither he nor his family had any enemies so far as is known.

A Shooting Affair in a Courtroom.

Helena, Ark., August 17.—[Social.]—News was received here today of a fatal shooting affray which occurred yesterday at Pepul grove, in this county. The participants were Scott Chapline and O. B. Hudson, the latter being the constable of the township.

Ead blood existed between the parties, owing to Hudson's persistence in hunting up petty cases against Chapline and members of his family. A day or two ago Hudson and Ed Chapline, a younger brother of Scott's, had a quarrel and Hudson swore out a warrant against him for abusive language.

The matter came to trial yesterday before Magistrate Bob Woods, and it was while sitting in Woods's office that Hudson was fired upon by Chapline.

Hudson was shot through by a 38-calibre Smith & Wesson. He ran from the office, dropping his pistol as he ran. A son of Hudson's tried to shoot his father's assailant, but was quickly covered by several pistols. Chapline secured the pistol of both father and son, and mounting a horse fied.

Deputy Sheriff Ed Ross organized a posse and is hunting for the fugitive. It is thought that Hudson cannot live.

Elopement of Miss Annie Belle Holmes and BRUNSWICK, Ga., August 17.—[Special.]— Brunswick and St. Simons have a social sensation which has been made public tonight. The principal in the sensation is Miss Annie Belle Holmes, a well known and highly respected young lady of the suburban village of St. Simons, which is practically a part of Brunswick, although situated on the island of St.

Simons, the center of which is the big St. Simons lumber company's mills, in which Mr.

Henry Holmes, the young lady's father, is assistant superintendent. Wednesday afternoon Miss Holmes, who is only sixteen years old, left home with her parents' consent to visit friends for a couple of days at the beach. She took the steamer Hessie, which stops both at the mills and the St. Simons beach. All went on well until tonight, when a colored hand, who works about Mr.
Klolmes's place, asked him where Miss Annie and Mr. Lowe had gone, stating that he had seen them take the Brunswick and Western train from Brunswick for Waycross and Albany Wednesday night.

Mr. Holmes was immediately alarmed, as Lowe is a man of almost no character, who had been in Mr. Holmes's employ, but who had been discharged a few days before. Mr. Holmes is telegraphing to Savannah, Way-cross, Albany and other points, asking the police to look out for the runaway couple, and furnish him any information that can be tained. He also wants the Atlanta police department to be on the lookout.

Miss Holmes is a brunette and very pretty, and when she left home she was dressed in a dark brown traveling dress, although it has since been discovered that she took a full wardrobe with her. Lowe's initials are J. R. and Mr. Holmes, in his distraction, describes him as a worthless scoundrel, who looks just what he is. Mr. Holmes is a very highly respected gentleman and was one of the bravest soldiers in the confederate service during the war. Miss Annie was a general favorite wherever she was known, and much surprise and regret is expressed on all sides at her unfortunate mistake in eloping, especially with a man ike Lowe. Her parents, with whom she was a perfect idol, are nearly wild with grief, and their home is desolate.

THE JURY STILL OUT.

Trial of an Important Case in Jackson Supe

JEFFERSON, Ga., August 17,—[Special.]—
One of the most important cases that has ever been on the criminal dockets of our court has been on trial this week. The facts in the case are well known to the public, and it is needless to do more than to sum them up.

W. O. Shehnut was accused of stealing from John Stathan of this county a sum of accused. W. O. Shehut was accused of stealing from John Statham of this county, a sum of meney and in January, 1887, was taken by a party of masked men and hang up twice and severely beaten. The jury at the February term of the court failed to find a bill against Shelnut, but found bills for riot against G. N. Arnold, M. J. C. Statham, Bill Robinson, Andrew Martin and Joel Statham. and Joel Statham. Judge Estes, of Gainesville, and Colonel W.

Judge Estes, of Gaineaville, and Colonel W. T. Pike, of our town, appeared for the defense, and Solicitor General E. T. Brown, Silman and Mahoffer for the state. Judge Estes made a splendid effort for the defense, as did Colonel Pike also. Solicitor General Brown spoke about one hour and a half for the state, and he added by his effort greatly to his classified. added by his effort greatly to his already fine reputation as solicitor general, and the jury at this writing, 6 o'clock Thursday morning, have failed to arrive at a verdict, and are still out.

A number of ladies were out last night to hear Solicitor General Brown.

When the Indians inhabited this county a battle was fought here, which is said to be to Indian history what Gettysburg is to American. When walking event his county a battle was fought before the country of the what Gettysburg is to American. When walking over this you often pick up arrows, and, until several years ago, when Professor Rutherford hired boys to search for them, the ground was literally covered. On this place, also, the first inhabitants of the classic city worshipped the Almighty, and on this place was the first church ever built in Athens and among the first ever built in Georgia, while under the rows of cotton lies the bones of those that laid the foundation of our progressive city, although now is lost only in the memory of man, all traces of the battlefield, the primeval church and the cemetery.

Today Mr. Lilly would not sell the place for $150 per acre, or fifty times what he paid for it. This land has not been improved, and is in the same primeval forest as when purchased. In a talk with Mr. Boardman, the superintendent, on this subject, the reporter learned that the object of the gas company in putting in the electric light was to enable them to furnish any kind of light, of the best quality, to the citizens, that might be called for.

The present gas and water plant of this company has cost upwards of four hundred thousand dollars, but such is the faith of the owners in the future of Macon, and the stability of its business, that they are going to add this electric light plant at a probable cost of fifty thousand dollars, and are now engaged in thousand dollars, and are now engaged recting the water and oil gas apparatus of the martin improved patterns, in order to enrich the already high candle power coal gas which they supply to the public. By its means they expect to furnish a twenty-five candle power gas, which shall be devoid of the excess of carbonic oxyd.

The electrical expert, in the person of Mr.

The electrical expert, in the person of Mr. Chambers, is already upon the grounds, and the work in his department will be pushed with his usual vigor.

This company has laid about twelve miles of water mains in the city, this year, and a new fourteen-inch pumping main from Waterville to the reservoir. It is their intention ville to the reservoir. It is their intention soon to erect a very large reservoir upon the hill in East Macon, where the old Fort Hawkins stood before Macon was settled.

This company is already one of the strongest in the south, and its managers are interested in many of the water and gas works in this and surrounding states. With these additions, it will be able to supply light and water to the city of Macon, without further expense, except the laying of a few additional mains, for many years to come.

FROM CRAWFORD COUNTY. Uncle Ira Jennings's Budget-A Big Dinner-

Out at Widow Heath's, eight miles from here, on the Columbus road, a big basket picnic will be given temorrow. Everybody from the surrounding country is expected to be present, and nothing but a good time could be expected. The afternoon and evening will be spent in dancing. The "Virginia reel" will be danced, with several old time country banjo pickers present, and a day of fun and frolic is sure to be had.

Uncle Ira says that Uncle Ira says that when he left home yest-

THE BUREAU OF IMMIGRATION.

The Georgia State Agricultural Society's New Car at Americus.

Macon, Ga., August 17.—[Special.]—Mention has been made in these columns a number of times of Central's bureau of immigration and its work in connection with the Georgia State Agricultural society. In a recent interview with Colonel W. J. Northen on these two institutions, the new car being built by the Central, for the exhibition of the state's products, was described and its purposes. The car was just finished in the Central's shops here a few days ago, and was carried to Newnan, Ga., where the Agricultural societo Newnan, cas, where the Agricultural socie-ty was then in convention. It was exhibited there by Major W. L. Gles ner, who explained it and showed it to the delegates and members present. The convention closed Wednesday, and the car passed through the city today on its way to Americus, where it is to be filled with specimens of everything raised on Geor-cia soil, after the manner of the county exhibwith specimens of everything raised on Georgia soil, after the manner of the county exhibits at the state fairs. Several days will be occupied in this, and then it will start for its long trip through the northwest. Major Glesner informed a Constitution reporter today that he would pass through all the prominent cities of that great territority. At several places in Indiana and Michigan fairs will be held, and at each of these places he will stop four days at a time. and Michigan fairs will be held, and at each of these places he will stop four days at a time. He is amply supplied with good advertising material, and will get in some good work at these places. Some time will also be spent in Ohio. The whole trip, from the time of leaving Macon to the return, will be just seven weeks, arriving here on the second day of the state fair, which evens on October 10. state fair, which opens on October 10. Central Georgia's New Cotton

Coming Into Macon Every Day—The Receipts Yesterday.

Macon, Ga., August 17.—[Special.]—It may be said that the cotton season has now fully opened, as the fleecy down is arriving here every day. This morning W. F. Price, the Fourth street warehouseman, received from J. M. Heard four new bales, and from T. D. Warren five. The heaviest of the nine bags was six hundred and forty pounds, and was out of Warren's lot. The average weight is five hundred and fifty, and it all came from Houston county. ton county.

RAILROAD NOTES.

Did the Railroads Snub the Council Committee? Change Demanded-It Must Come and the Best Ylan Should be Accepted-committee appointed to investigate and report upon the Woodward resolution?

Changes on the Central.

It certainly looks as if they did. It may be possible that the railroads feel too cure in their present rights to bother themselves about special committees and prospective restrictions. In conversation with a railroad man yesterday a Constitution reporter was asked what he thought was likely to be done in regard to this ordinance, and the reporter was forced to plagiarize from Talmage and answer that "the Lord only knows." But this question gave the reporter a chance to get an opinion, and he took advantage of it by asking his railroad friend for an opinion about

"Oh, I am equally as ignorant as you are about the prospects for a change in the present system of switching, but I have always con-sidered it as dangerous, and think it only a estion of time when there will be a change. What sort of plan would you suggest as less ingerous than the present one?"

"If I could suggest any plan at all it would e bound to be less dangerous than the present ne. But I am not in the suggestion line on this class of railroad work, and I am perfectly willing to allow the managers and the city to make their own arrangements."

"From what you have said I should infer that you thought a change necessary."
"No, I do not go so far as to say that a change is necessary. But there is no doubt that it would be an improvement on the present order of things, if the switching of trains was not permitted to blockade the principal street crossings and endanger the lives of the people who have to run a risk every time they cross the tracks."

"Would the change proposed, that of a belt line, be as costly as is represented?"

"I do not think that it would cost a million dollars, or anything like that sum. The right of way would be a large item in the ex-pense that this belt line system would incur, and if the city should demand that the rail-roads adopt this plan, it would be almost in duty bound to provide the right of way."

"You say you will not give me any outline of a plan that will solve this problem."
"Not today. But I will say this. A change "Not today. But I will say this. A change is bound to come, and a postponement of it will make it more costly. And let me tell you another thing. The Constitution has done the proper thing in stirring up the union depot question. I am heartily in sympathy with any move that will aid in giving the traveling public a safe and comfortable depot, regardless of location. It has occurred to me that if a new depot is built in the location suggested in a recent interview published in The Constitution, the chances for accidents on the street crossings will also be greatly lessened."

Change in Schedule.

The Atlanta and Florida, under the manage ment of President Haas and Superintendent Gray, is going to improve its train service as rapidly as possible, and will endeavor to give Atlanta bus sible, and will endeavor to give Atlanta business men and the actions of that road as good schedules as possible. With this end in view, the present schedule will be changed on Sunday next, so that the south bound train will leave Atlanta in the morning, returning in the evening. This will give an opportunity for the travelers to make the round trip in a day, with time at all points for the transaction of business.

Barbecue at Mount Vernon and Mont-

The citizens of Mount Vernon and Mont-gomery county tendered the Central railroad offi-cials and citizens of Savannah a barbecue on cials and citizens of Savannah a barbecue on Thursday. The party consisted of Major M. S. Belknap, Colonel J. L. Warren, Mr. E. M. Green, Mr. John J. Young, Mr. Young Mcintyre, and they were royally entertained. Najor Belknap made an address to the people of Mount Vernon, and assured them that the Savannah and Western would be built, and that too without soliciting the aid of a dollar from the Montgomery county people. It was a big day for Mount Vernon.

They are Hard Workers. They are Hard Workers.

If there is one class of men who earn their money in the raitroad business, the traveling passenger agents are entitled to that credit. They are constantly on duty and their work not only demands good business qualifications but a thorough knowledge of human nature. And the man who gets there us a passenger agent, must be ready to go anywhere and everywhere that a show for business is presented. He must be willing to pack his grip on a moment's notice, to take the first train always and ride until the cinders and the dust change his appearance and religion. He must be willing to talk all languages, whether he knows anything about them or not and never forget that his road is the best in the country with the fastest time and first-class cars. He must laugh to scorn all mention of other routes than the oue he is interested in and smile under all circumstances. These and other little incidentals that are necessary to his success of course becomes a sort of second nature in three, but it is work just the same, and there are occasions when even the best ordered agent forgets the teachings of his early youth and utters a benediction on all things that pertain to milroads and their patrons. But they get there just the same.

Brief Mention. If there is one class of men who earn their

A Change of Front, As a political gymnast, General Harrison takes the cake. In a recent address at Indianapolis to a visiting delegation, he spoke as follows:

as follows:

The purpose not to permit American wages to be brought below the level of comfortable living and competence and hope by competition with the pauper labor of Europe has taken a very strong hold upon our people. [Applause.] And of kin to this suggestion and purpose is this other, that we will not permit this country to be made the dumping ground of foreign pauperism and crime. [Great applause.] There are some who profess to be eager to exclude paupers and Chinese laborers, and at the ameritime advocate a policy that brings the American workman into competition with the products of cheap foreign labor. The disastrous effects upon our workingmen and workingwomen of competiour workingmen and workingwomen of competi-tion with cheap, underpaid labor are not obviated by keeping the cheap worker over the sea, if the product of his cheap labor is allowed free competiproduct of his cheap labor is allowed free competition in our market. We should protect our people against competition with the products of underpaid labor abroad, as well as against the coming to our shores of paupers, laborers under contract and the Chinese. [Enthusiastic applause.] These two thoughts are twin thoughts; the same logic supports both, and the republican party holds them as the dual conclusion of one great argument.

This is the most remarkable instance of political evolution on record. Only a few years ago this same General Harrison, as a United States senator from Indiana, voted fourteen separate and distinct times in favor of unrestricted Chinese immigration to this country. Indeed, the only record of any importance which he made while in the senate was in favor of Chinese immigration, and yet he now has the audacity, as the re publican nominee for the presidency, to declare that "we will not permit this country to be made the dumping ground of foreign pauperism and crime," and, further, that should protect our people against competition with the products of underpaid labor abroad, as well as against the coming to our shores of paupers, laborers under contract and the Chinese." The "enthnsiastic applause" which greeted the latter sentiment was probably called forth, not so much in approval of the speech, as in astonishment at the remarkable change of front, so suddenly made.

Whatever may be the opinion and the doctrine of the republican party on this subject, there can be no question as to the position of its nominee. He had six years to study the question, and fourteen opportunities of giving practical demonstration of, his views on the subject of Chinese immigration, and instead of proving himself the champion of American labor, as he now pretends to be, he took an unequivocal stand in favor of the very thing which he now cries out against.

General Harrison must have a very poor estimation of the American people, if he thinks for an instant that they can be gulled by any such talk as the above. It would be ch better for him to stand on his record. with the announcement that it was conscien tiously made, than to stultify himself by proclaiming that he never meant what he said, and did not indorse what he has done. The open and frank course is always the best to pursue, and pays in the long run. Hypocrisy breeds contempt, and a clearer case of duplicity than the above could not

THE fate of the fisheries treaty will be decided next week. No matter which way it goes New England will kick. An Adamless Eden

If Dr. Chaille, of New Orleans, has made no mistake in his statistics and deductions, the United States will some day be a country without men.

The doctor shows by indisputable figures that in almost every part of the country women have better chances of life than men, that they outnumber them, and live longer. It is claimed that women will continue to grow stronger, while men will de cline in all vital characteristics. Gradually the men will feebly limp off the stage, growing fewer in number with each generation, until the time when the last man will bow himself out, with his eyes riveted upon the superior race.

We must come to this, if Dr. Chaille is right, but the women need not go into any mature glorification. They will find that an Adamless Eden is a very stale, flat and unprofitable place.

By September the presidential campaign will be in full blast, and by October the whole country will be waked up.

William and His Advisers. The retirement of General Von Moltke has reopened the talk about a European war. His successor, General Von Waldersee, belongs to the younger German element, which is generally regarded as being in favor of an agressive policy. He is not a young man himself, being fifty-six years of age, but in Germany a public man scarcely reaches the prime of his political life until after that age.

The new general is said not to have the good will of Bismarck, as did Von Moltke. There is some significance in this which. taken into consideration with his well known bitter antipathy to Russia, and his anti-French tendency, would indicate that the Emperor William made the appointment preparatory to surrounding himself with younger men of his own sympathy, instead of the older advisers which were left as the inheritance by his father and grand father. Six years ago the aged Emperor William, Bismarck, and Von Moltke were the powers of Germany. Today but one of them remains in the same position as when William lived, and the displacement of Von Moltke may be the precursor of a similar fate for

Only a few nights ago young William declared in a speech that forty-six million Germans would die rather than give back to France a single rock of Alsace and Lorraine. He is constantly indulging in this sort of talk, which serves to show that the possibility of a war with France at least occupies his attention. The new commanderin-chief of the German army is a close sup in our cup; they dip in our dish; they sympathizer with the emperor and it is probable that the two will shape the policy of the government rather after their own ing than that of Bismarck. The chancellor himself is getting old, and it may be that William will soon conceive the idea that he ought to be "retired" after the fashion of Von Moltke. It would certainly surprise nobody if this were done, but it is safe to say that in such an event European war talk would be on a better Facts About Ireland.

It is impossible for a fair minded man to indorse England's Irish policy when he looks at the present condition of Ireland. Nearly one million pauperized Irishmen have to be relieved every year by the authorities. Of this number eighty per cent have been made paupers by the cruel evictions forced by their grasping landlords.

More than 3,000,000 acres of good land remain untilled, because the landlords demand an exorbitant rent.

In one generation the population of th island has decreased at a fearful rate. It has dropped from 8,500,000 to 2,500,000.

No other land, however oppressed and robbed, can present such an array of mournful statistics. No poor man ever goes to Ireland in search of liberty or in the hope of bettering his condition, but, on the contrary, men flee from the country as if some blighting curse had befallen it.

For protesting against the policy which has brought about these results the followers of Parnell are denounced and imprisoned by the tory government. Patriots are thrown into filthy jails to suffer and starve and perhaps die as Mandeville died. When the masses of the English people get all these facts before them, they will be compelled to elect parliamentary representatives who will grant home rule to Ireland or take their stand before the world as the most brutal nation of this civilized age. The only hope of the Irish rests with the English masses, the common people, the workers of the land. There is nothing to be expected from the classes, the aristocrats, monopolists and landlords who now hold the reins

JAY GOULD is poorer than some people uppose. Instead of being worth nearly $200,000,000, he is worth only $75,000,000. Applicants for charity should let him alone. The Trust Evil.

Senator Reagan's bill to abolish trusts perhaps comes too late in the session for a thorough and intelligent discussion of the points involved.

The bill may need amendment, but it is a step in the right direction. It defines a trust as follows:

That a trust is la combination of capital or skill by two or more persons, for the following purposes:
First—to create or carry out restrictions on trade;
second—to limit, to reduce, or to increase the production or price of merchandise or commodities;
third—to prevent competition in the manufacture, making, sale or purchase of merchandise or com-modities; fourth—to create a monopoly.

Mr. Reagan proposes to punish the members of such trusts by fining and imprisoning them, and as a matter of course this is the only way to break them up. Some are of the opinion that it is a matter to be dealt with by the states, but as all or nearly all trusts extend their operations beyond a single state, these combinations are subject to the constitutional provision giving congress the right to regulate commerce between the states.

The object of a trust is to establish a monopoly, and to make larger profits by decreasing cost, limiting production and increasing the price to the consumer. The sugar trust has already increased the price of sugar to the consumer half a cent a not checked by law.

Is a trust contrary to public opinion? A recent treatise on the subject, by William W. Cook, of the New York bar, answers this question affirmatively. According to Mr. Cook, a trust is against public policy, and perhaps altogether illegal, because it is in restraint of trade. It is organized to do away with competition. When many salt manufacturers in Ohio, some years ago, combined to sell all their product to an unincorporated joint stock association, composed of the manufacturers, the court held the combination to be illegal. In Pennsylvania a similar combination of coal companies has been held to be illegal and void, and the New York courts rendered a decision on the same line. In Louisiana a court refused to uphold the agreement of several firms owning a large quantity of Indian bagging not to sell, except upon the consent of a majority of the parties to the agreement. The court said in this case: "The agreement between the parties was palpably and unequivocally a combination in restraint of trade, and to enhance the price in the market of an article of primary necessity to cotton planters. Such combinations are contrary to public order, and cannot be enforced in a court of justice." As far back as the early part of the last century an English court said: "To obtain the sole exercise of any known trade throughout England is a complete monopoly, and against the policy of the law." It will take time for our courts and our legislation to apply the principle laid down in those cases to the great swarm of trusts now multiplying in this country, but it will finally be done. Our people will not submit to any monopoly which raises the price of a commodity, injures its quality and tends to the impoverishment of the working classes. The great evil of a trust is felt mainly by the poor. It swallows up the earnings of the day laborer, and prevents him from saving anything for sickness and old age. Naturally, the masses will array themselves against the classes who have organized themselve into trusts. Just such struggles occurred in England when monopolies under Elizabeth and Charles the First oppressed the people, and in those struggles the monopolies had to go down.

Our people are not likely to deal gently with monopolies in the shape of trusts. These abominations are today what Sir John Culpepper said of them in the long parliament-"A nest of wasps-a swarm vermin which have overcrept the land. Like the frogs of Egypt they have gotten possession of our dwellings, and we have scarce a room free from them. They fat, wash-bowl and powdering tub. They share with the butter in his box. They will not bate us a pin. We may not buy our clothes without their brokage. These are the leeches that have sucked the commonwealth so hard that it is almost hectical.' The evil denounced in these strong words had much to do with causing Charles the First to lose his head. The temper of the people has not undergone any change. There is discontent everywhere, and our toiling millions of consumers are determined that a few rich men shall not combine together in secrecy to lower their wages, limit production and raise the price of the necessaries of life. Of course the trusts will fight. They will use every effort to influence the press and the men who make our laws, but in the end they will fail and go down just as they did in England. Capital is powerful, and its combinations are influential, but they are weak and helpless when the people get in an angry mood and determine to sweep

The present congress may do nothing, and succeeding sessions may fail for a time to deal satisfactorily with this great question, but its settlement cannot long be delayed. The American people will not be robbed by any set of men, whether they are bold enough to call themselves bandits, or cunning enough to call themselves trusts!

THE DRUGGISTS' CIRCULAR reports the following case: "A few years ago, while clerk-ing in a small town in north Missouri, there was a young dry goods merchant located next door to the store in which I was employed. This young man would come into the from four to six times daily, walk back to where the quinine bottle was kept (it was purposely placed in a convenient position) and with the point of a spatula would put probably two or three grains upon his tongue, hand us a nickel and walk out, without aking anything to allay its bitter taste. This was a daily occurrence during the time that I remained there (nearly three years). In reply to a query from me, he said that he took the quinine because he liked the effects of it, and unless he did so his mind became confused, and he was scarcely able to properly attend to his business duties.' Another medical journal pronounces this case exceptional, and says there is no such thing as the quinine habit. It says that with the exception of a few drugs, among which may be mentioned opium, alcohol, chloral and haschish, no adequate proof exists that the use of drugs creates a morbid craving for them uncontrollable by the will.

CONGRESSMAN COX RETURNED from North Carolina to Washington in a car full of yellow fever refugees. He told a reporter that he was afraid to say anything about it to his colleagues, as the mere mention of such a thing would doubtless have caused congress to ad-

THE LOUISIANA WAY of getting up a mol and whipping men and women who lead open-ly immoral lives will not do. The next thing will be the mobbing of men and women who lead secretly immoral lives, and when lynch law gets that far, there will be no safety for some apparently virtuous citizens in every community. The trouble is that mobs often make mistakes. It would be a very bad thing to whip innocent men and women. The escape of the guilty ones would be better than

THE NEW YORK TELEGRAM says: "The country has been startled by the prostration of Congressman Randall, and it seems to be proved that the disaster was, at least in part, occasioned by Mr. Randall's over-indulgence in berries in his particular bodily condition. Doctors tell us that the common physical trou-ble under which Mr. Randall labors is always more noticeable in the berry season than a other times of the year, the seeds being the aggravating influence. It is not the size of ces that is the considera tion, but their bulk when swallowed in quan tity. One would hesitate about swallowing the small handful of pits contained in a moderate bunch of grapes-they make quite a formida ble showing-yet they are, all the same, swal-lowed in eating the grapes, and possibly pack in the stomach or bowels, an entirely inc tible mass of woody fiber. As to yet smaller seeds the process is precisely similar, depending only on the quantity of such food eaten. The seeds of blackberries are enormous in size and quantity compared with the pulp, and in eating a comfortably large saucerful of this fruit, one swallows the equivalent in seeds of those of a large portion of grapes, or of a number of cherry stones.

LESS THAN TWO months ago more than seventy-five guests attended a college banquet at Marietta, Ohio. Since then seven of them have died, and thirty are, or have been, seri ously ill. The symptoms of the disease are e of typhoid fever, and a physician charges it all to the ice cream consumed at the banquet. The mild-eyed cow is coming in for a good deal of abuse just now. We are told that her milk is the cause of consumption, and, taken in the shape of ice cream, it is liable to produce sudden and painful death. LAST WEEK THE New York police arrested 1,626 persons. If they arrest the same number just before the presidential election, and the parties get a term on Blackwell's island it asy decide the fate of one ticket or the other.

Two YEARS AGO Louis Bieral shot Surveyor Beattie of the New York custombo Bieral went to prison, and his wife is now partly suspported by Mrs. Beattie, who on one on gave her $100. Such acts of charity are not common.

MR. RANDALL is rapidly recovering, but will not, it is thought, resume his seat in congress during the present session.

LODGE NOTES.

The week has been a decidedly dull one in lodge work. The various chapters, councils, lodges, tribes, societies, and other secret organizations have held their customary meetings, but as a rule the attendance was small and the proceedings brief and unimportant. A great many lodge members are out of town, and the hot weather hasquieted the enthursiam of those who remain in town.

The most important happening among the secret orders this week was the encampment and the meeting of the grand loogs of Odd Fellows in Gaineeville. Atlanta was well represented, nearly every lodge in the city having sent delegates.

Gate City lodge Knights of Honor held its regular fortnightly meeting last night, the attendance being large. Three new members were elected and two were installed. The membership in this lodge is growing every week. Last Friday night the Atlanta lodge Knights of Honor met as usual, the attendance being large. Several new members were elected. This lodge is in a prosperous condition. Women's Work During the War. The Raleigh, N. C., News reports an intersting souvenir of the war in that city in the share of a scrapbook containing specimens of the various home-made fabrics used for clothing in the confederacy. Every grade and color of fabric is represented, from the coarsest copperas check to the finest "silk-mixed," which was made by carding minute bits of old slik of any kind with cotton, about half and half, and then weaving the cloth as fine as possible on a rough handloom.

The women of the south exhibited the most com-endable and interesting ingenuity in utilizing the rude resources of their country in the manufacture of dress fabrics, including all that was required for head gear and foot wear. They did not, as is told of the Carthagenian women, give their long hair to be twisted into bowstrings, but if it had been necessary they would have done so. The confederate women proved themselves equal to any sacrifice.

Mr. James R. Tucker, of Level Land, S. He rode out to see what it was and found it to be a small wainut box partially rotten, and to his astonishment he found it to contain silver and gold coin. Counting it out he found it to contain nine thousand five hundred dollars. Some think it was hidden there during the late war and could not be found or the party or parties moved off or died.

THE STATE OF BUSINESS.

Dun & Co's Review Finds a More Favorable

Condition of Affairs.

New York, August 17.—R. G. Dun & Co's review of trade for the week says:
The signs this week are all more ravorable. More definite information limits the less by injury to wheat and cotton, while corn prospects continue good. Business in almost every part of the country improves, with many indications of a good fall trade. Manufactories are more active and better labor is employed.

Railroad earnings show gains as usual and the belief that the wars will not last has strengthened. On the whole, the feeling has decidedly improved, and the actual situation also.
For some months dullness in the iron trade has been a discouraging symptom, but now an increase of 6.200 tons in the weekly output since July first is recorded, a gain of nearly six per cent. This is partly due to the consumption of furnaces, which suspend for a time in the summer for repairs, but some new and large works have swelled the output of coke iron to 74,855 tons weekly. There is no change in prices and a little less activity at New York or Philadelphia, but foundry irons are more firmly held, and at Pittsburg, mill irons are twenty-five cents stronger. In all quarters a better demand is felt and sales of or at Cleveland are now large. cents stronger. In all quarters a better demand it and sales of ore at Cleveland are now large. While it is noteworthy that no advance appears in steel rails, though sales of 10.000 tons east and 14,000 tons west are recorded, besides the Pacific coast con-tracts for 30,002.

The coal market is also strong and active, and an

The coal market is also satisfied and active, and an advance is expected about September first, coincident with the advance in rail charges.

Latest advices regarding crops are favorable, because they indicate that the injuries undeniably sistained are not so serious as many apprehended. While the harm done in Minnesota and Dakota has en great in some localities, the latest estimates on 1,00 po n sappear to justif the be that eld from increased acreage will be about as large

While the harm done in Minnesota and Dakota has been great in some localities, the latest estimater from 1.:04 po n s appear to justif the the that yield from increased acreage will be about as large as that of last year.

The gloomy anticipations as to cotton in Texas are met by telegraphic accounts of rain throughout the state and better prospects, and it explained that with good weather hereafter, the state will exceed last year's yield. Speculation has entirely disregarded the crop news, and cotton has been lifted a quarter, with better prospects of yield, just as hegs have risen 5c, and lard 18c, per hundred pounds, in splite of the excellent prospects for corn, which was nevertheless hoisted yesterday.

Wheat has declined over a cent, and the slow export demand is still the prevailing feature, though the foreign crop advices are gloomy. Advices from interior points are uniformly favorable, as to actual business, than for many weeks. Improvement is quite generally reported with transactions exceeding last year's atmany points. The clearing house returns also indicate reviving activity, exceeding last year's by 6.6 per cent in aggregate, and 7.7 per cent outside of New York, but much of this gain is due to greater speculative activity in stocks at Boston, in grain at Chicago, and in cotton at New Orleans. Money is in ample supply for legitimate demands at nearly every point reporting, though quoted close at Nashville, and improvement in collections lessens the number of complaints.

In foreign commerce, a decline of 18 per cent in values of exports for the two weeks from New York and a decline of 33% per cent in value of imports here, do not accord with the accounts of domestic trade Imports in anticipation of a change of duties seem to have supplied the markets for the present, while foreign buyers, notwithstanding the large prospective needs for the coming year, are too wary to hasten their purchases. Returns still show that the movement of foreign capital this way has not ceased, though the stock market monetary future.

He would have been glad to have a few French words at command, but wa not seriously incommoded. "I sat down to dinner one stormy night in a Swiss inn, with sixteen peo-ple. Six different nationalities were represented by these sixteen people, and the only language that they could all speak was Engl sh." This, he thinks could not have occurred twenty-five years ago. Willed His Property to the Devil. The following singular case is troubling the heads of the Finnish lawyers: A man died a week or two ago in the interior of the country who was said to have led an ungodly life. He bad always been known to be well off, but nobody knew how he had gained his possessions. There were many strange stories afloat, but one which was more credited than all the rest was to the effect that Huolarinen, as was his name, had in his early days Huolarinen, as was his name, had in his early days been on an initimate footing with "Wihtahausu" (the "evil one"), with whom he had several transactions of a commercial character. When Hoularinen's will was opened it was found that he had bequeathed all his landed property and possessions to the devil. The family naturally protested against the will, and the question now arises how this tickilish matter is to be settled. Everybody seems anxious not to offend any of the parties concerned.

The following singular case is troubling the, heads of the Finnish lawyers: A man died a week or two ago in the interior of the country who was said to have led an ungodly life. He had always been known to be well off, but nobody knew how he had gained his possessions. There were many strange stories affoat, but one which was more credited than all the rest was to the effect that Huolarinen, as was his name, had in his early days been on an intinate footing with "Wihtahausu" (the "evil one"), with whom he had several transactions of a commercial character. When Hoularinen's will was opened it was found that he had be queathed all his landed property and possessions to the devil. The family naturally protested against the will, and the question now arises how this tick lish matter is to be settled. Everybody seem anxious not to offedd any of the parties concerned.

A Stationhouse Marriage—A Mad Dog Killed—A Young Burglar—Other Items of Interest.

The policemen, as usual, brought in several cases yesterday to the stationhouse.

The afternoon business was dull, but at night it picked up, and the Black Maria was called for at three different places at the same time. Several right interesting incidents occurred during the day, among them a stationhouse

A Stationhouse Marriage.

About 2 o'clock yesterday a crowd of negro women gathered around the stationhouse, and it could be at once seen that "something was in the wind." It was found out that two prising the wind. Mark Kent and Maria Craig, two negroes, were in the stationhouse, charged with committing adultery, and their friends had persuaded them to get martheir friends had persuaded them to get married and end the difficulty, so they had consented. They were led forth, and the policemen stood in a circle around them, while Frank Josephs, the chaingang negro preacher, performed the ceremony. The preacher was the biggest item in the marriage.

"One of dese heah reporters hab jest axed me ef I had been laying roun' heah ter marry dis couple. No, I haven't; en I want dat 'ticularly understood."

He read the ten commandments and halted on the seventh to give emphasis.

"Do yer know dat I hates fer marry people at de station house? I married a couple once at de station house? I married a couple once and they turned right around and separated, and when I axed de woman 'bout her husband she said he had done gone and she was huntin' anudder one."

But all the same he 'jined' the right hands, made each one say that their love was unchangeable, and pronounced the ceremony fin-

The couple went off in gay spirits, glad to get out from behind the bars.

A Mad Dog Killed.

Patrolmau O. P. Veal killed a mad dog yesterday at No. 77 Mangum street. He found the dog in convulsions, raising a terrible noise, and frightening all the ladies in the neighborhood. They had the windows pulled down, the blinds shut tightly, and the doors closed. One shot from the officer's pistol, however, laid the maddened animal low.

The dog was a magnificent Newfoundland, and weighed one hundred and fifteen pounds, be belonged to Mr. J. M. McAfee. Throwing Rocks at Each Other A short, thick-set negro boy was very anxious

A short, thick-set negro boy was very anxious last night to have a case made against another negro, and then didn't want it made. He came up to Officer Aldridge, and told him that Charley Dobbins had hit him with a brick. Dobbins was arrested, and came to the stationhouse, when it happened that the other negrorepented and didn't want to make the case. The case was disorderly conduct and throwing rocks. was disorderly conduct and throwing rocks.
A Jolly Old Woman.

Rosa Lee, a jolly old Woman.

Rosa Lee, a jolly old woman, was brought into the stationhouse yesterday on the arms of two policemen. She was as limp as a rag, and insisted that she was paralyzed. She evidently was paralyzed, but as to the cause, perhaps it was natural and perhaps it wasn't, more probably the latter. She was carried into the cell with ease, and appeared quite happy and jolly. Along with her came two men who were accused of quarreling with her. One of them had a knife and fork in his pocket, and had evidently been eating. All three were put behind the bars to await their trial this morning.

A Young Burglar Caught.

He was a small, youthful darky, but the ways of the world were well known to him. Jim Hargrove was the boye and he had been caught stealing over on Wheat street, just below the Y.M. C. A. building. He had carried some clothes up into the third story of a boardinghouse, and, while in a gentleman's room, quietly lifted a scarf, hat and coat, and was making away with them, when he was "nabbed" by one of the gentlemen in the house. He dropped the coat and tried to run, but couldn't escape. He was turned over to Officer Aldridge, and received a cell at the stationhouse for the night.

A white man named James Magbee was arrestedyesterday by Officer Green on a warrant issued in Douglas county, and asking his arrest here. He is charged with misdemeanor, and says that it must be for selling whisky in the county, which is a dry county. He says that such was hinted to him.
She Wanted to Kill His Dog.

Jim Baker was up in Judge Landrum's court yesterday for assault and battery. He is magra who owns a little dog which is the a negro who owns a little dog which is the cause of all the racket. The other day it bit the small child of Lavinia Brown, and she said she would kill it if she could and tried to do so. She said that Baker made an assault upon her on this account. He was bound over in the sum of one hundred dollars to appear at the next session of the city court.

Joshua Burtz Not Guilty.

Joshua Burtz Not Guilty.

Mr. Joshua Burtz, tried on a warrant for larceny after trust, was acquitted yesterday. He was selling books for a man named Collier, and received a certain commission on his sales. In order to induce a man to buy some books he offered to give him his commission, which amounted to three dollars. He receipted him for this amount and afterwards quit selling the books. When the new agent took hold of the affair, he wanted to know about the receipt for three dollars, and the charge was then entered against Joshua Burtz for larceny after trust.

Mr. Burtz was acquitted after a great deal of wrangling and argument.

He Was to Buy a Baby-Carriage But Failed

He Was to Buy a Baby-Carriage But Failed to Do So. A. J. Dearsly, the negro locked up Thursday night for cheating and swindling, was sent to jail by Judge Owens yesterday.

He got two dollars from an old negro woman out on Peters street, and promised to bring back a baby-carriage for her daughter, but he skipped to Chattanooga and stayed there a while. He returned the other day and was arrested. He will try his hand a while in jail Among the Peelers.

Patrolman Christophine, who has been off duty for some time on account of an attack of theumatism, is at his post again.

Call Officer Green was kept pretty busy last night running around after the wrong-doers.

Chief Connolly occasionally indulges in a game of checkers, and is at present beating everybody at the stationhouse.

Detective Cason is sick at his home.

Jackson Brown, the man of bull fame, had to be put in the Maria by force almost. He strenuously objected to such proceedings.

Row in a Church.

An excited negro put in his appearance at police headquarters late last night, and reported a row in Ebenezer Baptist church, out on Foster street. He said that a negro named Bob MacGuire had made certain remarks about members of the church, and that the church had him up before the conference. Bob couldn't stand this, and cursed out the preacher and raised a general racket, in which some took one side and some the other.

An officer was sent out, but when he reached the place everything was quiet and serene. The darkies had all disappeared, with nobody hurt and only some bad feelings aroused.

He came from Augusta, where he labored successfully several years. A week ago he preached his trial sermon before a large congregation and made a favorable impression. Last night he conducted services at the synagogue and the attendance was very large considering the warm weather. Rabbi Reich is not yet twenty-eight years old and he has also made a very fine reputation. He is a refined gentleman, a ripe scholar and an eloquent speaker. The Jewish synagogue will doubtless prosper under his charge.

A Young Lady Intercepted While Going to Church, and Shot to Death.

WAXAHACHIE, Tex., August 17.—One of the most hideous crimes ever committed in Ellis county was perpetrated in Auburn neighborhood, about twelve miles south of Waxahachie, this morning between 9 and 10 o'clock. The particulars, as far as can be learned at this writing, are as follows: Miss Lizzie Shipley, a young lady aged seventeen, dressed to attend church, but had to go about a quarter of a mile to a neighbor's house, with whose family she was going to the church some distance away. She started alone to the neighbor's, but on the way, and about 2,000 yards from home, she met her cousin, Joe Shipley, aged about twenty-eight, when some think he assaulted and attempted to outrage her. Others say he tried to persuade her to marry him, but on her refusal to comply with his demand, the circumstances show that a struggle ensued, when Shipley drew a thirty-four Coits revolver and shot at her three times. The first two shots only grazed her forchead and ears, and it seems that she had started away from him when the third shot was fired. The ball took effect in her back, and passing through her body, coming out just below the left nipple, killing her instantly. Two small beys heard the pistol shots and started in the direction of them, and as they came in sight Shipley fled, leaving one shoe and his hat behind. The boys coming up found the dead body of the lady lying in the road, with her hat and fan some distance away. The news of the crime rapidly spread through the neighborhood, and soon over one hundred armed men were scouring the country for the fiend. The officers were sent for at this place, who left with about twenty others for the scene of the crime. At about 2 o'clock Sheriff Rayburn secured two blood hounds from a convict train and left here at 4 o'clock to trail him if possible. Great excitement prevails in the community in which the crime was committed, and should Shipley be captured he will in all probability be lynched.

The New Territory. The barbecue at Fort Valley Thursday developed a very gratifying fact, provided it is taken advantage of by those who are directly interested. It is appearent that the people along the entire line of this road, and particularly at Fort Valley, are looking to Atlanta as their future market. There are good reasons why they should do this, for the building of this road has not only put them in direct communication with the capital city and best market in the south, but so far as Fort Valley is concerned, it has been relieved from the discriminations that always follow where a monopoly exists. But while this friendly feeling toward Atlanta exists, and is evidenced in a hundred different ways, Atlanta business men must not go to sleep and trust to good fortune to bring the trade of this rich section to them. They must take advantage of the opportunities offered them and work for the trade that is awaiting encouragement all along the road. It is worth having, and if the business men of this city do not recognize this fact and profit by it, some other city will, and Atlanta will be robbed of a promising trade. AMENDED FREIGHT RULES.

AMENDED FREIGHT RULES.

1. Rule No. 2 of the "Rules Governing the Transportation of Freight," is hereby amended so as to read as follows:

RULE NO. 2.

DISTANCES.—Since a separate rate cannot be conveniently given for every possible distance, the law authorizes the Commission "to ascertam what shall be the limits of longer and shorter distances." Five (5) miles has, accordingly, been fixed as the limit for a change of Freight Rates for all distances less than one Hundred miles; and ten (10) miles for all distances over One Hundred miles.

2. The following is hereby substituted for Rule No. 3. of the "Rules Governing the Transportation of Freight."

RULE NO. 3. RULE NO. 3.

RULE NO. 3.

For all distances over five (5) miles and under one hundred (100) miles, the following rule will apply; When the mileage does not end in 0 or 5 the near est mileage so ending shall govern the rate.

LILUSTRATION: For a distance of 27 miles charge for 25 miles; for a distance of 28 miles, charge for 30 miles. The following is hereby substituted for Rule No. 4 of the "Rules Governing the Transportation of Freight:" RULE NO. 4.

When freight is transparted any distance greater than one hundred (100) miles, if the mileage does not end in 0, the next ten (10) mile group above shall govern the ratio.

ILLUSTRATION: For 121 miles charge for 130.
Rule No. 27 of the "Rules Governing the Transportation of Freight," is hereby amended so as to read as follows:

RULE NO. 27.

All depots in this state must be kept open each day (Sunday excepted) for the receiving and delivery of freight as follows: From April 1st to September 30th, between the hours of seven o'clock a. m, and six o'clock p. m. From October 1st to March 81st, between the hours of seven o'clock a. m. and five o'clock p. m., with an intermission in each case of one hour, from twelve o'clock noon to one o'clock p. m.

Taking effect September 15, 1888

NEW YORK STOCKS.

Stocks as Reported at the New York Stock Exchange.

NEW YORK, August 17.—Steek market today was sgain under the control of bear-operators, and, although the only unfavorable news consisted of reports of light frosts in the extreme northwest, no trouble was experienced in marking down prices. Trading was very light, however, and brokers for a bear clione were the only prominent sellers of Trading was very light, however, and brokers for a bear clique were the only prominent sellers of stocks, with the exception of a Chicago house, which sold 2,500 shares of Northwest early in the day. Operators began with an attack on .St. Paul shortly after the opening, and that stock declined ½ per cent in the first half hour. Vanderbilt stocks were then raided and no resistence was met in Lake shore of Northwest, in fact, Northwest shows the state of the list, and it is the only one in which a decline of more than 2 per cent was recorded. When the bear selling orders were exhausted, as they were at intervals during the day, the market became dull but strong and showed a tendency to advance, but a fresh pressure was put on whenever it rallied, and in the last was put of winderest and the control of the bour an organized attack was made on all active stocks, and prices declined with a rush toward the close. NEW YORK, August 17—Hubbard, Price & Co., in their circular today, say: Local rams are again reported in Texas, and indications now point to a breaking of the long continued drouth in that see titon. Under this influence, and the failure of Livery and the distant positions cased immediately after the opening, and closed at about the lowest prices of the day, October showing the most strength and September again displaying great weakness. A raid upon August, or rather the selling of a line of 5,000 bales, said to have been long cotton, broke the manket rapidly from 11,40 to 11,30. The bull party evidently knew of this sale, as they refrained from attempting to sustain prices during the decline. This operation has exceedingly mystified all traders, and tonight opinions are very unsettled as to the future course of August. Many believe that some settlement has been arrived at; others that the movement was for the purpose of preventing further.

THE CHICAGO MARKET.

Features of the Speculative Movement in Grain and Provisions.

CHICAGO, August 17—While the situation today was regarded as very strong in wheat by the trade, the advance sustained near the close of the session was but 1/2c. The greatest sctivity and highest prices of the day came early. Foreign advices were bullish and while the prices of futures were quoted as tending upward, spot wheat was 1 penny dearer in British markets. The bull news came from sealoged and the northwest. At New York the contract of the production board and the northwest. At New York the foreign houses were buying and dispatches stated that only heavy realizing on yesterday's purchases prevented a big advance. News of low temperature approaching very near, if not quite to injurious frosts in the northwest filled every ones ears. The opening was sensational with prices about \(\frac{1}{2} \) cover last night. Buying was so general that another \(\frac{1}{2} \) c was added before II a. m. Then there was a period of realizing and Sentember, after tomehing, SMCs. I cover less and September. After touching $4%c. Ic over last night, reacted to $5%c and toward the close kept between $4%c$%c. Wheat closed steady at about $%c advance for the day.

Corn closed 1/4c higher for future contracts after a coin closed year latter to inture contracts after a fair resume of trading and the range of fully 1c for the leading futures. As in wheat, the conditions made the crowd bullish and the opening prices were steady, when the cold weather reports came so thick early, the price of September moved up from 441/4, the bottom, to 45% the top for the pay, in short or the bottom, to 45% the top for the pay, in short or der. There was a reaction to 45c and later a drop to 44% c and the price closed at 44%. The improvement in corn had good effect on oats which were strong and closed with an advance of 1/4

People That Fix the Rate of Taxation and Dispose of Fulton County's Income— The County Commission.

One of the most important duties of the grand jury is the selection of the board of

This selection is an important one because This selection is an important one because the county commissioners constitute the main factor in the management of county affairs.

The commissioners of Fulton county receive and disburse annually not less than $1,000,000. They have charge of the county chaingang, and all work on the county roads. The money for all the county offices and officers passes through their hands.

Then again they are to a peculiar degree left free of dependence or connection with other authority. Their action is subject to no veto. They make no report to be approved or disapproved.

And they are elected by a majority of a grand jury of twenty-four men.
"Yes," said Dr. H. L. Wilson, one of the commissioners, yesterday, "that's a considera-ble sum of money to handle—a million dollars a year. That represents the aggregate of all money payable to the county."

"What do you do with it, doctor?" "Well, a great many things. The greatest expense is the courthouse. Out of that money is paid the salary of the judges of the city and superior courts, and a long string of other officials. The county jail is another big item of expense, and besides all that the board has charge of all work done on the roads of the county, and has charge of the chaingang. "The present board consists of Mr. C. W. Hunnicutt, chairman, G. W. Adair, James D. Collins, M. C. Kiser and H. L. Wilson. They are elected by the grand jury for a term of three years, but the terms of all do not expire at the same time. Mr. Hunnicutt's term expires in 1891, that of Collins and Wilson 1889, and of Adair and Kiser in 1890.

"The clerk of the board, chosen by the board for a term of two years, is Mayor Cooper.
"The commissioners meet on the first Wednesday of each month, in the ordinary's office at the courthouse. The sessions are open, and citizens are invited to join in the discussion of matters under consideration." 'To whom is the board responsible, doctor?" "Nobody. That is to say we submit no state-ment of our affairs to anybody, and there is no appeal from the action of the board. There is a sort of modification to be made to that state-ment, and that is this: Once a year the grand jury appoints a board of two, whose duty it is to examine the books of all county officers, our own among them, but with that modification the statement is correct.

"It is rather interesting to know," continued the doctor, "that the rate of taxation, fixed by the county commissioners, is lower in Fulton county than in all but two or three counties in the state, and yet Fulton returns about onetwelfth of the taxes of the state. There are a few counties in Georgia that cannot pay their own expenses, and their debts must be paid out of the general fund." "Do all counties in Georgia have a board of county commissioners?' "Very nearly all. The act of the legislature simply authorizes the grand jury of a county to select the commissioners.—The board has the power of the old time ordinary, and also that formerly vested in the judges of the inferior courts, and in counties where there is no board of commissioners the duties of the board devolve principally upon the ordinary."

"Does the act of the legislature provide that the commissioners must be chosen by the grand jury of each county?" "Yes, that is the law in Georgia. In Florida they are chosen by the governor, and in most "Are not some of the most important duties of the commissioners in connection with the work of the county chaingang?"

"Yes, a vast amount of work is done by them under our supervision, and it is a carefully as-certained fact that the chaingang, over and above every expense in connection with it, nets the county $20,000 annually in work, and the work estimated at contractors' figures. The net income to the county would be more than that but for this fact: When a criminal from Fulton county, tried at the expense of Fulton county, is sentenced for more than twelve months he or she goes to the coal mines or the brick company, and the proceeds of his or her labor goes to the state instead of to Fulton county. In other words, the county gets no return for money actually expended. It's a dead loss, and a considerable loss, be-cause quite a large per centage of the terms are over twelve months. All the chaingang work in the county though is controlled by the commissioners.' "And to sum it all up?" "Well, to sum it all up, the commissioners through Treasurer Payne, receive and distribute the income of the county—just about a million dollars." "And they are chosen by the grand jury?" "Yes, selected by the grand jury."

And yet the people are said to govern them-About 90,000 people are in the county. Only 241 of these are fit to be on the grand So the revisers say.

MILLS AND BYNUM

Were Treated With Courtesy While Visiting Georgia-Letters From Them. ATLANTA, Ga., August 17, 1888.-Editors Constitution: The following dispatch to the Hart-ford Times has been extensively copied in the newspapers: *Awful "Sell" on the Congressmen. Washington dispatch to Hartford Times.

Washington dispatch to Hartford Times.

The maddest men in the house today were Congressmen Mills, of Texas, and Bynum, of Indiana. They have just returned from the Chautanqua, near Atlanta, the same to which Speaker Carlisle and Congressman McKinley were invited. It appears that the "Chautanqua" in question was nothing more nor less than a money-making scheme. But that fact was kept from all those invited to speak; everything went on all right until they reached the hall where they where to speak. The management was so careless that when Messrs. Mills and Bynum started to go in at the door, they were stopped and told that they would have to procure tickets at the box office—50 cents each. This made the Texan so mad that he let loose, and the air was fairly blue around there for a few moments. Bynum, as soon as he could, explained who they were, and the doorkeeper apologiced and offered to escort them to the platform himself, in order to make amends. But Mr. Mills was too angry, and refused, point-blank, to speak for any crowd at fifty cents a head. "I didn't come down here." he said, "to educate people at so much a lesson. What do they take me for, anyway?"—and he and Mr. Bynum walked away. Half an hour later, however, Mr. Bynum had persuaded Mr. Mills that the only way out of it was to make the best of a very bad bergain, and Mr. Mills, whose first thought was to keep the matter quiet.

But the story was to good to keep, and both gentlemen had a great deal of chaffing to stand to-day. Mr. Bynum, when joked about it by Tom Reid, of Maine, replied that he and Mills had done what no other member in the house had done, and that was to have an audience willing to pay for the privilege of hearing a speech on the tariff.

Upon the attention of Mes3rs. Mills and Bynum having been called to it they furnished the respective denials which follow and I beg you to publish them.

COMMITTEE OF WAYS AND MEANS, HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES, WASHINGTON, D. C., AUGUST 15th, 1888.—My Dear Mr. Arnold: I have yours of the 18th and the slip you send from the Hartford Times. It is false from beginning to ending. Both in reference to myself and Bynum everything in it is false.

Yours truly, R. Q. MILLS. FROM MR. BYNUM.

House of Representatives U. S., Washington, D. C., August 25, 1888.—Mr. Frank A. Arnold, Atlanta, Ga.—My Dear Sir: Yours of the 13th instant, containing copy of dispatch to Hartford Times, relative to the visit of Mr. Mills and myself to your state, to hand. I had not seen this dispatch, but had heard that such stories were being circulated in the pahand. I had not seen this dispatch, but had heard that such stories were being circulated in the papers. I wish to assure you that they did not emanate from Mr. Mills or myself, but upon all occasions we have, as we could but truthfully say, spoken in the very highest terms of our reception and treatment by yourself and others while in Georgianater, from the time of our departure to the moment of our return. I suppose these reports originated from the simple fact that an admission fee was charged to Chautauqua gronnds. I retret this circulation as much or more than yourself, because I look upon my visit to your city and to the acquaintances I made as among the most pleasant of all my life. We not only felt that every courtesy had been shown us but that yourself, Mr. Turnbull and others had exerted yourselves to the very utmost to make our trip one of pleasure and enjoyment. The only complaint I have to make is the horrible manner in which THE CONSTITUTION mixed up my speech, I am reported as saying "that the manufactures of my own city only run eight months in the year, and that the employes were turned out of employment to starve the other four." What I did say was that certain industries in the United States could make in eight months enough to do us a year, and if we could not find a market for the surplus in other countries our laborers would be thrown out of employment four months in the year. My allusiont to the industries of Indianapolis was to show tha we could export products, if we only had reciprocal trade.

Hoping that this will fully satisfy yourself and trade.

Hoping that this will fully satisfy yourself and friends that Mr. Mills and myself have but the lyshest regard and most kindly feeling for you all, and with the assurance that there is not a spark of feeling rankling in our bosoms over our reception and treatment by your people, with personal regards to Messrs. Turnbull, Smith. Spalding and yourself, I temain, yours truly.

THE HEALTH OF OUR CITY.

Why We Have Such a Healthy City and Why it Will Likely Remain So. Why it Will Likely Remain So.

In the first place we have, as it were, "a city set upon a hill" which always gives many advantages in a sanitary point of view. It makes a natural drainage equal in many respects to the finished cities in low, flat marshy sections. Another thing our efficient board of health has not been slow in always looking, not only to the present, but the condition of the health of our citizens, and have so arranged as to make their work of a permanent nature, so that each year, notwithstanding the rapid growth of the city we have a city in a much better and healthier condition than the year preceding. The air is fresh and bracing, nights cool and pleasant, which makes sleep sweet and refreshing, and if our people will only look a little after their health and when they find the least giving way, either mentally or physically, will call on their druggist for doctor wooly's Invigorine and take it they will not only be happy and bright but healthy and stout. Ask your nearest neighbor about this and see if they do not bear us out in this. Health.

Persons coming south from Waycross and Jesup will not be allowed to come to this city unless they hold a certificate from the mayor or chairman of the board of health of the place from where they come, that they have been residents for thirty days continuously and that there is no contagious or infectious disease existing in same place. What Was Done Yesterday.
The normal lecture was on the story of the English Bible. It was clearly stated and outlined on the blackboard, so that every member of the large class could carry away the facts presented. For two hours before the normal class held its session Miss Lindley was at work in the tabernacle with her class of children preparing for the exhibition of today. At 2:30 the Rogers band furnished an hours enjoyable entertainment to the visitors present.
The afternoon lecture was delivered by Dean W. P. Thirkield, of Gammon theological school. His subject, "Manhood, Its Pattern and Inspiration," covered a discussion of the characteristics of man and the methods by which his nature, playsical, mental and moral, is to be trained. It was an earnest and y which his nature, physical, mental and noral, is to be trained. It was an earnest and moral, is to be trained. It was an earnest and elequent plea for such training as rounds out manhood to all its fullness. Rich in thought, vigorous in style and forcefully delivered, it was one of the best lectures of the assembly session. At five o'clock the chorus class was called and At five o'clock the chorus class was called and an hour spent in preparation for the concert of today. At seven o'clock Vitale and Fanuelli entertained the audience with several selections on violin and harp. This was followed by the lecture of 'the evening by Dr. C. H. Stocking, of Orange, N. J. The topic was Florence, the home of Italian art. The descriptions were cloquent and the illustrations helped to illustrate the speaker's reference to great cathedrals, old pictures and perfect sculpture. The memory of this lecture and the one which preceded it will be a delight to those whe listened to them.

The illuminations of last night were magnificent beyond description. Every flowerhed, path, fountain, basin and the outlines of the buildings distinctly defined by the beautiful fairy lamps, while under the electric lamp on the summit of Rose Mound the band discoursed sweetest music, and this closed a delightful day at Chautauqua.

Dr. W. H. Felton has been invited to preach on Sunday morning, and Rev. C. H. Morrison, D. D., has accepted an invitation to preach at night. At 2:30 p. m. Rev. W. L. Davidson will conduct a study of the international Sunday-school lesson for the day, and at 5 p. m. reconduct a study of the international Sun-school lesson for the day, and at 5 p. m.

ofessor R. M. McIntosh before the evening
mon, will make a delightful Sunday promme.

About Next Week
the normal class lectures, by Mr. Davidson and Dr. Gillet, will be continued. The chorus class, under Professor Case, will meet twice each day. The class in physical culture will reorganize for a short term of work on Monday. The normal rectures and entertainments day. The popular lectures and entertainments of the coming week will be among the very best the assembly has yet had. The programme will include lectures on "Love, Courtship and Marriage," and the Uses of Ugliness, by Rev. John De-Witt Miller, one of the most brilliant and successful lecturers on the American platform today. On "Fools" and "Grumblers," two important classes of humanity to which no reader of The Constitution belongs, by the versatile and witty paster of the First Baptist church in Chicago, the Rev. P. S. Henson, D. D. Beginning on Wednesday night, a series of four brilliantly illustrated scientific lectures by Professor John B. DeMotte of De Pauw University, Green Castle, Ind. Dr. De Motte brings with him nearly a ton of scientific apparatus which will be manipulated by Mr. W. H. Stanton, for two years foreman in Queen's great optical establishment and now instrument maker to the university, from which the lecturer comes. The four topics will be. 1. The Witchery of a Glance or How a Beam of Light Tells its Story. 2. The Sounds we Hear and How we Hear Them. 3. The Air we Breath. 4. Electricity,—the Wizard of the Nineteenth Century. These with The popular lectures and entertainments Sounds we Hear and How we Hear Them. 5. The Air we Breath. 4. Electricity,—the Wizard of the Nineteenth Century. These with the music, illuminations and fireworks at Piedmont ought to take out crowds of people during the week.

A SUIT FOR DAMAGES.

A suit for damages was filed in the clerk's flice yesterday against the East Tennessee onice yesterday against the East Tennessee railroad.

The plaintiff is Catherine Lambert, and the claim for damages is founded upon these facts:
The plaintiff, as set forth in the petition yesterday, and in a bill of injunction filed day before yesterday, owns real estate at the corner of Ira and Rockwell streets, and lying contiguous to land belonging to the East Tennessee. Some time ago the railroad company constructed a ditch upon the land, the result of which was the drainage was directed upon the land of the plaintiff and great damage was done thereto. A garden was ruined and a well was rendered unfit for use, and the land has depreciated in value. Several tenants have left the houses rented from the plaintiff because of the drainage, and the damage altogether is estimated at one thousand dollars.

But come and investigate the merits of a perfectly painless system of RECTAL TREATMENT as practiced by me, and learn to shun and abhor the antiquated method of the knife, which either kills right out or makes the victims of the cruel system suffer the pangs of the damned while life lasts.

Hundreds of patients have been under my treatment in this city for piles, protruding and bleeding, as well as internal piles, without one moment's loss of time from their business, and with infallible success in every instance.

The same happy results have accompanied my treatment for all other rectal diseases and

NO. 8 W. MI

Respectfully, WASHINGTON, D. C., May 30, 1887. We were very much troubled to deodorize some of the departments of the Red Cros Hospital, during the encampment at Camp George Washington. After trying all other disinfectants known to us, the Champion Dissufectant and Deodorizer was brought to my notice, and used with the most satisfactory results. It not only overcame the original of feuse, but also the still worse offensive odor created by the use of so many of the so-called disinfectants. As a deodorizer, I have never used its equal. F. H. HARSHALL, Chief Hospital Steward, U.S. A.
